

TERHILLS

HOTEL

The art of hospitality. Redefined.

From mining site to tourist hotspot

Are you looking for a unique location to stay, dine and meet? Terhills Hotel in Maasmechelen is the only one of its kind for this purpose. This four-star hotel with 59 luxury rooms is located in the main colliery building of the former Eisden mining site, where rich history merges seamlessly with modern luxury.

Located at Terhills between the Hoge Kempen National Park, Maasmechelen Village, Terhills Cablepark and Elaisa Wellness, Terhills Hotel offers access to several paradises. Unspoiled nature, a unique wellness spa, adventurous water fun and high-end shopping. You can do it all here.

A touch of history

On arrival at Terhills Hotel, you can't miss the link to its industrial past. The imposing baroque architecture and symmetrical garden show the richness of the coal mining past by surprising you with artfully cut hedges and the soothing sound of a fountain. Immense pit headframes beside Terhills Hotel are a reminder of the underground work that was carried out here.

These historical details combine beautifully with the modern, luxurious decor of the hotel rooms. The restaurant and bar also combine contemporary design with a playful variation on the past. The contemporary-designed conference rooms also have excellent luminosity thanks to the large windows, which offer a calming view of the former mining site.

Details in the interior of Terhills Hotel also bring its opulent history to life. In the stairwell, the restored stone staircase still sags slightly due to underground coal mining. The safe door, behind which the miners once received their paychecks, now provides access to the toilets. Impressive!

The Terhills conference meeting rooms are ideal for use as VIP, press, production or artist space. They additionally offer direct access to the event zone.

Say 'oui' to team atmosphere in the garden

Looking for something even a little tougher? Start your morning or end your day with a walk over hot coals... Coal used to be extracted from under the ground at Terhills, now we walk over hot coals above ground. Not for the faint of heart!

Bistro Bureau Nouveau welcomes you

In 2024, Bistro Bureau Nouveau added a new layer for food enthusiasts. You can deeply explore the flavors and atmosphere of the top shelf here. The restaurant offers a varied menu of dishes prepared fresh daily. You can enjoy both lunch and dinner here. The bar is open daily from 12 pm and offers tantalizing cocktails as well as light dishes and savory snacks.

The name and concept of Bistro Bureau Nouveau refer to the contrasting worlds of underground mining life and the magnificent management buildings above it. While the miners toiled hard in the coal seams – known as “bouveau” – the clerks luxuriated in elegant offices above ground. The engineer versus the miner. Light versus dark. Bistro Bureau Nouveau reconciles the two worlds, but also challenges them by placing them side by side. Taste the contrast for yourself during a visit to Terhills or a stay at Terhills Hotel!

Terhills, main gateway to Belgium's only National Park

Feel the heartbeat of nature. This is not the Terhills slogan for nothing. This home of the main gateway to the Hoge Kempen National Park is the ideal starting point for a visit to Terhills and the National Park. You can walk undisturbedly through this vast area of nature using mapped out routes with distances from 1.4 km to 10.9 km. The wooded former slag heaps ("terrils") are unique to this hiking area. These mining stone mountains were created by the accumulation of excess soil that was excavated during the former coal mining activities.

Terhills is a versatile venue that gives you the opportunity to upgrade your corporate events with a healthy dose of pure relaxation.

At the summits of the terrills, the hiker is rewarded with a wide-sweeping view over a landscape of mountains and lakes. Are you eager to learn more about local nature or add extra experiences to your visit? National Park Rangers provide interesting tours, from a hike combined with beer tasting to a full moon hike. But visitors can also explore on their own.

Terhills Cablepark

Without disturbing the peace of the surrounding nature reserve, within walking and biking distance of Terhills Hotel is a place where adrenaline reigns supreme: the Terhills Cablepark. In this idyllic setting you can water ski, wakeboard or kneeboard. Ideal for an adventure break.

In the best months, you'll also find the aqua park open: a challenging, inflatable obstacle course with obstacles up to four metres high. Who dares? The water attraction allows you to simultaneously climb over obstacles, slide on cushions and enjoy a genuine water extravaganza.

Those who prefer to watch can settle down at the beach bar. With sand, beach chairs, canopies and umbrellas, a real beach atmosphere prevails here. The most beautiful sunset in the region does the rest!

TIP

This location isn't only perfect for a challenging team-building activity, but also a fun barbecue or beach party.
